McKinley and Roosevelt Are Unanimously Named.

FORAKER'S SPEECH IN FULL.

Notable Demonstrations in Honor of Each Candidate.

MR. HANNAH REELECTED CHAIRMAN

Vivid Description of the Proceedings of the Republican National Convention During the Process of Selecting Nominees For President and Vice President.

THE TICKET.

For President—

WILLIAM M'KINLEY of Ohio.

For Vice President—

THEODORE ROOSEVELT of New York.

Philadelphia, June 21.—The national committee has re-elected M. A. Hanna chairman. Dick of Ohio was elected to the temporary secretary. Chairman Hanna was authorized to select from the members of the national committee an executive campaign committee and the committee then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. The headquarters of the national committee will be established at Chicago and New York, as in the campaign of 1896.

Philadelphia, June 21.—A bright and cloudless sky with a cool and bracing northeasterly breeze gave ideal conditions for the last day of the Republican national convention.

After all the smoke of the skirmish of the last few days, the convention hosts awoke with a common belief—that McKinley and Roosevelt would be the ticket of 1900.

The exciting scenes shortly before midnight, the conference of the managers in Senator Hanna's rooms, the withdrawal of Long, Dilliver and the disappearance of every other obstacle in the path of Roosevelt's triumphant nomination and finally the formal, measured announcement of Senator

Hanna that in his judgment after a complete review of the conditions, Governor Roosevelt should be nominated by acclamation—this series of events dispelled the very last vestige of doubt as to the ticket.

Long before 10 a. m., the hour set for the re-assembling of the convention, the hall was surrounded by an immense army of people who besieged all the doors and entrances. The stage had been freshened with green things and at each corner like a touch of flaming color, red peonies shot into the air.

The band in the north gallery was at work early with inspiring music. The sun blazed down through the spaces in the roof and the heat finally became uncomfortable.

But the ladies were attired in their thinnest muslins, everybody was provided with a fan and there was no complaint. One old fellow in the gallery with charming disregard of the proprieties, divested himself of coat and vest, hung them over the rail and took his seat.

The Kansas delegation headed by Colonel Burton, with bright silk sun-flowers pinned to their lapels, aroused the first enthusiasm as they marched down the main aisle bearing a white banner inscribed in big black letters with the words "Kansas is for Roosevelt."

Governor Roosevelt entered at exactly 10 o'clock. He made a rush of it, but he did not escape the keen eye of thousands and they set up a cheer at sight of him.

Mrs. Roosevelt Attends.

Among the early arrivals in the hall was Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt. She sat in the front row of the east side of the hall immediately to the left of the first row of delegates. She was attired in a pink summer gown, white collar and picture hat trimmed with feathers and a great how of white. Accompanying her was Mrs. William J. Young, wife of the governor's private secretary and Professor Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia university, of New York. Mrs. Roosevelt was the cynosure of thousands of eyes.

Hanna Is Applauded.

Another outburst greeted the entrance of Senator Hanna. His progress was impeded all the way down the aisle by delegates who insisted upon shaking his hand. He stopped a moment to chat with Senator Davis and when he reached the standard of the New York delegation, where Roosevelt was receiving a reception, he shook hands with him.

At 10:20, the big band from Canton, Ohio, the president's home, made its way into the hall from the west side and broke out with the pealing strains of the national anthem. The whole audience rose to its feet and stood until it was concluded.

At this point a squad of men were busy distributing great stands of red, white and blue pampas for the demonstration.

At 10:36 Chairman Lodge glanced at his watch and then with three claps of the historic gavel stilled the tumult on the floor while the band ushered in the session with the national anthem. The chairman then announced the opening invocation by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia.

The distinguished prelate wore the superb purple robe of his high station, falling to his feet and open in front showing the heavy chain and golden cross emblematic of his office.

When the striking figure of the archbishop, at the finish of the prayer, disappeared in the throng on the stage, the vast assemblage sank to its seats, and the gavel fell to make place for the more practical work of the convention.

Secretary Long called attention to Louisiana being inadvertently omitted from the roll call for National committeemen and that was corrected. Alabama also named its selections, having failed to do so yesterday.

The chair then laid the amendment to the rules offered by Mr. Quay as the unfinished business before the convention.

Quay Withdraws His Amendment.

Mr. Quay announced the withdrawal of the amendment proposing a change in rules 1 and 12 referring to representation in national conventions. This was accepted by the southern delegates as a concession to them, and they rose en masse, cheering wildly at the withdrawal of the proposition.

Now Mr. Lodge advanced to the front of the platform, and a thrill went through the vast audience as he announced: "Under the rules, nominations for the office of president of the United States are now in order."

There was a momentary shout which the chairman punctured with "the state of Alabama is recognized."

A tall and swarthy Alabamian stood on his chair and by prearrangement answered:

"Alabama yields to Ohio."

Foraker Nominates McKinley.

This was the signal for the recognition of Senator Foraker who was to make the speech nominating Mr. McKinley as the Republican candidate for president, then the cheers began and a wild scene ensued.

Amidst a tumult of applause Senator Foraker went to the platform and when quiet was restored began to speak, first thanking Alabama for the courtesy of yielding, but attributed that fact to the "overwhelming popularity of the candidate. As Mr. Foraker continued he was repeatedly interrupted with cheers. His announcement that the nomination of McKinley was equal to an election in November brought vociferous cheers.

After the nominating speech Senator Hanna sprang to the front of the stage, a flag in one hand and a plume in the other and led in the tremendous demonstration. This lasted five minutes. Not content with their frenzied hurrah on the floor, the delegates now marched in solid ranks upon the platform, with standards, plumes, banners and flags. After the demonstration had continued seven minutes, the Ohio delegation where centered the waves of sound, moved up the aisle, while all the other state delegations, bearing aloft their standards, formed in a grand procession about the hall. The demonstration lasted just 10 minutes.

Every One Sang.

The plume demonstration was followed by the singing of "John Brown's Body," the galleries joining in the chorus, while the delegations led the singing.

Ex-Governor Taylor of Kentucky stood on an end chair in his delegation and waved his right hand as the procession of plumes returned from the platform.

Chairman Lodge, as the hurrah began to subside, made an effort to restore order, but this was only a signal for the crowd to again break loose.

It was exactly 15 minutes when order was restored and Mr. Lodge announced: "The chair recognizes Mr. Roosevelt of New York."

Again the magic of a name sent the multitude into convulsions of enthusiasm. All eyes were turned toward Roosevelt. He stepped out into the aisle and strode up the platform.

As the governor faced about on the platform a man with a camera planted the instrument directly in front of him. As Mr. Roosevelt saw it he said sharply: "Take that away; take it away."

Fired the Kodak Man.

The sergeant-at-arms rushed the man and his apparatus out of the aisle. Then Governor Roosevelt began his speech, speaking in a clear, full voice.

"We have done so well that our opponents use it as an argument for turning us out," he said smiling and showing his teeth, and his audience responded with cheers and laughter. His allusions to the ice trust called forth the heartiest applause, with cries from the galleries of "Hit 'em again" and "That's right, Teddy."

"I pity the Democratic orator in New York who mentions trusts" he declared with uplifted hands and the audience howled with laughter and shook the floor with applause.

When he declared with the brilliant emphasis that the success of the Republican party in November meant peace in the Philippines, while the success of the opposition meant a prolongation of the struggle, the crowd rose almost as one man and cheered.

The closing words of the governor brought another demonstration and for a minute it seemed that the convention would go mad and then there came two nominations instead of one. Plumes went up and standards again left their sockets to be waved on high.

The convention came back to quiet and the chairman recognized Senator Thurston of Nebraska for a speech, seconding the nomination of the president.

The nomination of McKinley was also seconded by John Yerkes of Kentucky, George Knight, head of the California delegation and Governor Mount of Indiana.

Vote Demanded.

As Governor Mount closed the convention again demanded a vote and the chairman announced that the roll of states would be called for the vote on the nomination for president.

At 12:37 the vote began.

During the call of states on the vote for presidential candidate the galleries were noticeably attentive and there was no unusual demonstration among the delegates until New York was announced by Chairman Odell. This brought out a round of applause. When Pennsylvania's vote was announced by Senator Quay many of the delegates arose and cheered.

Some of the states were not content with casting their votes for McKinley, but the chairman announced the vote which the candidate would receive in November.

At the call of Hawaii the delegations stood and cheered the announcement of the new possessions of its two votes for McKinley. The tally clerks quickly made the official summary and handed it to the chairman.

A Unanimous Nomination.

Mr. Lodge took the paper and advancing to the front of the stage said: "The total vote cast is 930. William McKinley has received 930 votes. It is a unanimous vote and the chairman declares that William McKinley is your nominee for the presidency for the term beginning March 4, 1901."

Again pandemonium broke loose in one swelling chorus of enthusiasm for the new candidate. Up went the plume and standards. Up stood the great audience, men and women, mingling their cheers with each other.

A huge counterfeit of an elephant—emblem of Republican strength—was brought into the hall. Around its neck was entwined garlands of flowers. Laughter and applause were mingled as the great emblem was borne about.

SENATOR HANNA.

The demonstration in honor of the president's nomination lasted five minutes and then the chairman called for order for the further event in store.

As the name of Alabama was called on the roll of states, nomination of candidates for vice president, the announcement was made by the chairman of the delegation that Alabama would yield to Iowa to present a candidate.

Young Nominates Roosevelt.

Chairman Lodge then recognized Colonel Young, one of the Iowa delegates-at-large, and editor of the Des Moines, Iowa, Capital. He withdrew the name of Dilliver and offered that of Roosevelt. Colonel Young was in Cuba at the time Roosevelt led his gallant Rough Riders up San Juan hill and his reference to the governor's campaign was eloquent and touching. There was another demonstration. Butler Murray of Massachusetts and General James M. Ashton of Washington seconded Roosevelt's nomination.

Depew Speaks.

"Depew, Depew," demanded the delegates in tumultuous chorus and as they called the well known face and figure of the New York senator emerged from his delegation, Governor Roosevelt himself taking him by the arm and urging him forward to the platform. The benign face of the post-prandial orator looked down on the people and then his musical voice began a magnificent and impromptu tribute to the hero of the hour. He was in good humor as well as in good voice and his touch of jocosity in mentioning "Teddy" and the "get there" qualities of young America, brought out a storm of mingled laughter and applause.

Nomination of Roosevelt was unanimous with exception of the one missing vote of New York—the individual vote of Roosevelt.

The vast assemblage sprang to its feet and state emblems, pampas plumes, handkerchiefs and hats fairly filled the air. The band in the main gallery began to play "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" and to the inspiring strains the delegates began marching around the hall, filling past Governor Roosevelt as he sat in the New York delegation and extending to him their congratulations.

On motion of Colonel Dick, Senator Lodge was placed at the head of the committee to notify the president of his nomination and Senator Wolcott at the head of the committee to notify the vice president.

The serious work of the convention was now practically over and only a few details remained to be performed. A resolution by General Grosvenor was agreed to for an official print of the convention proceedings and a reprint of the proceedings of four years ago. Another resolution empowered the national committee to fill vacancies on the committee.

Resolutions of thanks to Mr. Lodge and to Mr. Wolcott for their services as presiding officers, were unanimously adopted, also thanks to Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia for the hospitality of the city and to all officials of the convention.

This closed the work and at 2:14 p. m., on motion of Seneca Payne of New York, the Republican national convention of 1900 adjourned sine die.

New York, June 21.—The death is announced of David M. Barnes in this city in his 80th year. He was the husband of Rose Eytinge the actress; was at one time editor of the Albany (N. Y.) Express and was connected with the New York Times under Henry J. Raymond.

HOT SHOTS THROWN

Into the Populous Chinese City of Tien Tsin.

ADMIRAL KEMPF NOTIFIES

The Navy Department of a Direful Bombardment.

AMERICAN CONCESSIONS DESTROYED

The American Naval Commander in the Chinese Waters Says That a Relief Party, Including American Marines, Is En Route to the City.

Washington, June 21.—Acting Secretary of the Navy received a cable message from Admiral Kempff, dated Chefoo, June 21, saying that Tien Tsin is being bombarded and that much of American concessions as well as foreign concessions are being destroyed. A relief party is en route to Tien Tsin, including 130 American marines under Major Walter.

Shanghai, June 21.—The Blue Jackets have been landed at Woo Sung to protect the telegraph station. Woo Sung is a small maritime town at the mouth of the Woo Sung river and three miles north of Shanghai. It was strongly fortified by the Chinese but was taken by the British in 1843.

Washington, June 21.—Mr. Wu, the Chinese minister called upon Secretary Hay at the state department and informed him that he had received a dispatch from the viceroy of the three great provinces of the Yang Tse Kong saying that he felt himself perfectly able to keep the peace in his provinces and insure the safety of the foreign missionaries and that in conjunction with his colleague, Viceroy Hun-Nan, he is able to answer for the preservation of peace and order in all the great southern provinces of China.

A cablegram received at the navy department from Admiral Remy at Manila, states that the Zafro sailed from Cavite for Hongkong. She is a supply ship and may proceed to Taku after communicating with Captain Wilde of the Oregon at Hongkong.

Boxers Threatened Violence.

New York, June 21.—The American Bible society has received a letter from Rev. John Hykes, D.D., dated Shanghai, May 17, who had just returned from a trip to Peking. Dr. Hykes says: "I had a long conversation with Dr. W. S. Ament, of the American Board, a native of Owosso, Mich., and a graduate of Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio, who recently made a journey of some 80 miles into the territory occupied by the 'Boxers.' At one of their strongholds they threatened to blind Dr. Ament and his companion and to murder a Chinese they had with them, but they happily escaped without suffering any violence."

Diplomats Are Safe.

Berlin, June 21.—A semi-official dispatch from Tokio, dated June 21, says the Japanese consul at Shanghai confirms the reports that Vice Admiral Seymour has arrived at Peking and that the members of the diplomatic corps are safe. According to an official Japanese report from Chefoo, the foreign settlement at Tien Tsin was reduced to ashes June 18.

Mission Looted.

Shanghai, June 21.—The British destroyer Whitting, at Chefoo reports that nothing has been heard from Seymour's force for six days. The French consul wires that the British mission at Tsang Chu has been looted and the missionaries conveyed to an unknown place by a Chinese general.

No Official News.

Berlin, June 21.—The admiralty is still without news of the commander of the Itlis, or the wounding of Lieutenant Kuhn. There is no officer of this name, but there is a Lieutenant Kuehne.

Berlin, June 21.—The National Zeitung, commenting upon the proceedings of the Republican national convention at Philadelphia, refers to Mr. Wolcott's expression of sympathy for the Boers in his speech at the opening of the convention as "singular after the Republican administration had refused American support to the Boers." It adds: "Presumably this was a political maneuver designed to take the wind out of the sails of the Democrats."

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,
J. N. KEHOE, of Mason County.

Local rains and thunderstorms this afternoon and to-night.
Saturday fair.

The Republican National convention didn't declare in favor of government by assassination, and Taylor, Bradley and their crowd will likely bolt the ticket.

Taylor evidently didn't enjoy his visit at Philadelphia. A correspondent of one of the Chicago papers says he went about with a body guard of eight or ten people, three of whom belonged to the detective force of that city.

Mr. Bradley and the rest of the Kentucky Republicans at the National convention wanted a plank in the platform declaring in favor of Congress passing laws to control all elections. When Boss Hanna got through with that plank only a few splinters were left.

A TIMELY DECISION.

The recent dispatch from Frankfort announcing the decision of the Court of Appeals in favor of osteopathy is encouraging to all advocates of honest administration in matters pertaining to medical practice. It is a gleam of strong democratic sense which will soon illumine every court and enlighten every jury in the State. Under the wretched pretext of "purifying and elevating" the medical profession, personal and professional rights have been violated, and the vital interests of communities ruthlessly ignored. Crops of spies and informers have sprung up in every quarter of the Commonwealth; practitioners of proved ability and deserved popularity have been robbed of rights which they have acceptably exercised for years, and creatures practising under forged or fraudulent credentials have been entered as honorable practitioners upon the registration lists of the State.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The heat criticism we have yet seen of the Republican National platform adopted this week is from the pen of S. E. J., a staff correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer. It lays bare the hypocrisy of the party. We trust every one will take time to give it a careful perusal.

The Republican National convention has adopted a platform of excuses, expedients and apologies rather than of principles. It audaciously seeks, through the instrumentality of rhetoric, to convert the sins of the party leaders into virtues, and claims all the works of Providence to be the especial beneficence to the people of William McKinley and his associates in the government.

The resolutions represent that the country has been restored to prosperity by the redemption of two promises made in the Republican campaign of 1896—first, to revise the tariff so as to produce the necessary public revenue and better the condition of the people; and second, to avert financial disaster and revise the money system with particular reference to the establishment by law of the gold standard. Such declarations must be intended to influence those who take no pains to study the great economic questions and who will be satisfied in the future with demagogic resolutions as their only text books.

All intelligent men know that the tariff legislation under the present administration has not only failed to raise the necessary revenue, but has been the primary means of establishment of the trusts which are now burdensome to the people. The surplus in the revenues has been obtained through the imposition of odious internal taxes, tolerable in war times, but obstinately maintained after the necessity for them has passed.

The currency law is a delivery to the banks and capitalists of the control over the volume of money. It grants to the few the privilege of issuing paper promises that they do not have to redeem over their counters in gold. This discrimination between bank money and the money issued directly by the United States is favoritism that must arouse the indignation of those who are not among the favored classes themselves. The question of free silver is said to have been eliminated from politics for the present. Whether it has been or not the general question of finance is a warmer issue than it was even four years ago. Congress and the President have not taken a step on the money question that has not been covertly or overtly in the interests of the capitalists and money monopolists, and against the people.

The boast that ten millions of the human race have been given a new birth of freedom through the war with Spain is idle and impudent. It is a falsehood of the most glaring description when considered in the light of the obstinate holding onto Cuba in contravention of the solemn promise in our declaration of war; of our treatment of the people of Porto Rico as subjects and mendicants rather than as citizens, and of our adoption of the British policy of conquest over colonies in our relations to the Philippine Islands.

The praises bestowed on President McKinley are fulsome and nauseating to the last degree, and would be repudiated by any President who had a becoming sense of the dignity of the office and who did not regard the Chief Magistracy simply as an instrumentality to confer spectacular honor on him.

The cheap talk of cross roads dough faces about menace to prosperity having always resided in Democratic principles, and about the incapacity of the Democratic party to conduct public affairs, is contemptible and unfit to be introduced in a national declaration of principles of a great party. It is the blatherskite performance of politicians who are driven to artificiality by their own abominable record. It hurts the administration more than it does the Democrats.

The paragraph on trusts is a straddle. It "favors" legislation in restraint of abuses, thus acknowledging that the correction of the trust evil is within the scope of legislation, but neglecting to refer to the fact that no honest and candid movement was made against the trusts during the long session of Congress just closed.

Under the pretense of protecting labor there is warm commendation of the tariff policy which now, as in the past, is chiefly notable for the enrichment of the tariff barons and the establishment of trusts.

There is a lot of stock phraseology about merchant marine, pensions for soldiers, roads and highways and public domain, and to hoodwink the working people there is a paragraph favoring the establishment of a new Cabinet office—that of Commerce and Industry. There is no thought of taking any such step. This is only a campaign sop. It may be said of this proposition, as of many others in the resolutions, that the whole machinery of legislation has been in the hands of the Administration party for many months and not a wheel has been turned.

The declaration on the civil service is cowardly and evasive. "We commend the policy of the Republican party in maintaining the efficiency of the civil service." That's all. Not a word about several thousand offices having been taken out of the classified list so that Mr. Hanna might use them in his work of political degradation. Not a syllable on the wholesale blackmailing of Federal officeholders and employees last year to produce a party corruption fund for use in Ohio. The declaration that the administration has acted wisely in its effort to secure for public service in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands "only those whose fitness has been determined by training and experience" is enough to set the pictures of departed statesmen which embellish the hall to "make faces" at the delegates. "We believe that employment in the public service," says the platform writer, "should be confined as far as practicable to their inhabitants." He is an ignoramus, indeed, who does not know that the positions in the islands have been looked upon as money-making enterprises for party servants. The carpet-bag system prevails, and it is as hogwash and dishonest as it was in the South just after the Civil war.

The paragraph on the South African war is timid and meaningless. It is without meaning save as it betrays a fear of offending the British Government. It reasserts the Monroe doctrine after having almost destroyed it.

The promises that the war taxes will be removed and that Cuba will be delivered over to its rightful owners are worthless. Why were these things not done while Congress was in session? The manifest purpose is to continue the war taxes and add more to them to pay the enormous expense of establishing a standing army and maintaining an imperialistic policy. It is also the Administration design to rob the Cubans of their money and their island, and the adoption of two columns of insincere resolutions will mislead only the ignorant. The administrationists at Philadelphia have encouraged the Democrats at Kansas City to "make no mistake."

P. S. C. E. and Sunday school of the church.

ACCOMMODATIONS for fifty Kentuckians, including nearly all the delegates to the Democratic National convention, at the Coates House, Kansas City, have been contracted for by National Committeeman Woodson. Mr. Woodson has engaged five rooms, which are to be occupied by two persons each, and seven larger rooms, which will be occupied by four or six persons each, according to the size of the rooms. All these rooms are on the same floor and hallway, and they open into each other. To secure these accommodations, together with a large parlor for the Kentucky headquarters, Mr. Woodson has paid in advance $200 on the bill of the Kentuckians and signed a contract obligating himself to settle in full for the rooms on the agreed basis, $5 per day for each guest, until the adjournment of the National convention. This was the best arrangement that could be made with any first-class hotel in Kansas City.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman, of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by J. J. Wood & Son, druggists.

Wash Goods

Lawns of pure linen daintily flecked with tiny color designs—25c. a yard. As light as dimity but far more durable. Crisp and cool for waists and frocks.

COLORED DIMITIES.

America asks no odds against the world in producing printed cottons. The dimities look as though they had been laid on flower beds until the sun drew the beauty through. The price is so small compared to the prettiness we're almost ashamed to say it is only 15c.

DOMESTIC LAWNS, 7 1-2c.

And you'll have to be an expert to tell them from the imported sorts at double the price. Brand new styles, too—quite fifty of them.

GINGHAMS AND MADRAS.

See them—you'll find the prettiest conceits you ever imagined. There has been some brisk selling among the Gingham for several weeks but the inroad on the stock is scarcely noticeable because new things drop in every day. Prices graduate from the humble check at 6½c. to the silk-striped aristocrat at 75c.

RIVER NEWS.

A Millionaire Acted as Pilot on a Pittsburg Towboat This Week—Trying to Raise the Nisbet.

The Pittsburg coal fleet is passing. There are still about 10,000,000 bushels of coal ready for shipment at Pittsburg. Another effort is being made to float the W. F. Nisbet, which sank six months ago at Welleburg.

The Queen City and Pearce are due down this evening and the Courier tonight. Up to-night, the Wells for Portsmouth and Bay for Pomeroy.

Mate William Stapleton, of the steamer Virginia, on his last trip up, jumped into the river at Middleport and saved a negro roustabout and at the Sewickley trap rescued another man from a cap-sized yawl.

A telegram from Pittsburg says: "It is seldom that a millionaire acts as a steersman on a towboat, but when the T. J. Wood started southward Wednesday, with eight barges of coal, Captain August A. Jutte was at the wheel and will put the steamer through to Point Pleasant. The coal was ready to be shipped, the tow hitched, but a pilot could not be found, and as the river was falling no time could be lost in getting the steamer under way. Captain Jutte donned a suit of old clothes, and soon had the boat on the way down the Ohio. The present arrangement is for a regular pilot to relieve him at Point Pleasant, but if none can be secured the millionaire pilot will take the steamer and tow through to Cincinnati. His action disproves the statement of the combine that there are plenty of pilots."

DIED IN ST. LOUIS.

Mrs. Hulda King, Daughter of Fairfax Willett, Passed Away Thursday. To Be Buried Here.

News was received here last evening of the death of Mrs. Hulda King, wife of Dr. John Allen King, of St. Louis. She passed away Thursday morning at her home in that city.

Mrs. King was a daughter of the late Fairfax Willett of this city and spent part of her life in Maysville. She was married twice, her last husband surviving her. Her first husband, Richard Hinton, was a cigar manufacturer, and was accidentally shot and killed some years ago on Market street by his partner Col. Shafer.

Dr. King will arrive here to-day with the remains of his wife and the burial will take place in the Maysville Cemetery. The funeral arrangements will not be concluded until after the arrival of Dr. King.

PITHY POLITICAL POINTS.

(By Robert Taylor.)

Taylor of Indiana, sir.
It's Mr. Taylor of "Indiana" now, thank you.
The mountebank business is what Mount was designed for.
We suppose Taylor told Mount that it wouldn't be advisable for him to go back to Kentucky just yet.
We fail to see how Republicans can work up any enthusiasm over the present "race" Taylor is making.
Taylor didn't stand upon the order of leaving Kentucky, and it seems he doesn't intend obeying the order to return.
It wasn't that Taylor was so desirous of going to Indiana as it was that he was in a hurry to get away from Kentucky.
Republicans have the feeling toward Bryan akin to that they entertained for Goebel, and the world knows how that eventuated.
It isn't always wise to "jump at the conclusion" that a man is innocent simply because he may be making a big jump to evade the law.
It seems in very bad taste to decline an invitation to visit Kentucky by one who aspired to the position in the State that Taylor did.
Can it be that Mrs. Taylor's going to take up politics where her husband left off? "We charge thee, Cromwell, bring away ambition."
It wasn't altogether a gratuitous act on Mount's part, detaining Taylor in Indiana, as Taylor had evidently been asked to be held to.
Taylor said he "would never be a fugitive from justice," and of course it would be the height of bad manners to refer to him in this way.
Because Taylor prefers staying in Indiana to returning to the "dark and bloody ground" shouldn't be accepted as proof positive of his innocence of any wrong doing.
Taylor prates about "civil liberty." It isn't so much the quality of this article that he so much admires as it is the boon itself, free from Kentucky requisitions and attachments.
We hope the friends across Mason and Dixon's line won't accept Taylor's statement without some allowances, that he left Kentucky because he was innocent of any wrong doing.
There may be a bare possibility that Taylor had no complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel, but he'll find it mighty hard to make anyone believe that such is the fact so long as he continues on the run.

Splendid Freight Facilities of the C. and O.'s New Sidings.

With the completion June 1st of the Wormald siding at the foot of Limestone street and the new Poplar street siding, making a total of fourteen sidings within the three miles of city trackage, the C. and O.'s facilities for accommodating their patrons could not well be improved upon. Car load freight is placed upon any one of these sidings by the C. and O. free of charge, for unloading.

Paris, June 21.—The official visit of President Loubet to the United States pavilion in the Rue des Nations took place. By some unfortunate circumstance neither the United States commissioner general, Ferdinand W. Peck, nor the assistant commissioner, Benjamin D. Woodward, were there to receive him at the appointed hour, 9:30 a. m. The secretary of the commission, Major Fred Brackett and a few members of the national commission were in the buildings, but they had not been officially presented and President Loubet could not take any action. The United States ambassador, General Horace Porter, being present, however, came forward and received the president and escorted him over the building, explaining the various features.

While Mr. Henry Haughey was visiting at Minerva on the night of June 16th, a bay mare belonging to him was stolen or strayed from the premises where he was a guest. He will pay a liberal reward for her return or for information leading to her recovery. Address him at Sherburne, Ky.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on J. J. Wood & Son, druggists, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

BEN. BOARD, an employee on the C. and O., had one of his legs injured while at work this week near Poyntz's distillery, by a piece of timber striking it. The hurt necessitated a slight operation, which was performed by Dr. Ellis, the company's surgeon, last evening. Board was then sent to his home at Dover.
